

What matters to you when choosing a school for your child?

Is it the location?

Certainly having a school within a short commute means children have shorter days and more time to spend with the family. Dudley House is located on a residential road just a short stroll from Grantham town centre. This means that pupils can take advantage of local amenities during the school day, for example, the Library, Museum, High Street and Wyndham Park, without incurring travel costs. Every pupil is also able to use the Leisure Centre for weekly swimming sessions throughout the year.

Is it the curriculum?

We follow the National Curriculum to enable smooth transitions to secondary and other schools. We enhance our children's learning by visits, curriculum days and a host of practical engaging activities.

Is it class sizes?

Some children thrive regardless of how many pupils are in their class. Large classes do mean more choice for friendship groups. However, many children find it challenging to stay focused when working in large groups, haven't the confidence to speak up and are easily lost with large pupil numbers.

At Dudley House School, having small mixed age group classes means that everyone gets an individual education. A family feel environment ensures that all pupils feel comfortable to ask and answer questions in class. Moreover, although there may be only a small number of pupils of similar age, regular whole school interaction ensures children are part of the Dudley House family.

Is it emotional support?

At Dudley House School, small class sizes and the family feel environment means that children and parents have a high standard of emotional support. We pride ourselves in providing an exceptional level of individual care for all our pupils. Our ELSA (emotional literacy support) service ensures that issues are addressed by highly trained staff and in a non-threatening environment. Sessions help children build resilience and improve mental well-being by providing them with lifelong strategies. It is proven, that early interventions like these work, promoting happiness and allowing individuals to reach their full potential.

Is it the cost?

Perhaps you have never considered private education as you have always thought it is unaffordable. At Dudley House School, you get all the benefits of private education at a fraction of the cost. We are able to do this as our church subsidises each place. We also offer government funded childcare places for 3 and 4 year olds.
